

Level
Up

Transitions

Science is complex and highly specialized.

*That's why it requires EXPERT
*knowledge.

Antonio wants to understand his cholesterol analytics

Which expert would you consult?

Neighborhood
herbalist

Family doctor

Pharmacist

Carla notices that her son has difficulty reading and confuses letters when writing.

Which expert would you consult?

Educational psychologist

Early intervention specialist

Neurologist

Julia wants to learn about the effects of certain cleaning products on the environment.

Which expert would you consult?

Biologist

Chemist

Environmental chemist

Marcos wants to know if his house is located in an earthquake-prone area.

Which expert would you consult?

Civil engineer

Geologist

Architect

Sophie wants to understand how sugar consumption affects the brain

Which expert would you consult?

Neuroscientist

Nutritionist

Chemist

James has trouble breathing when he exercises and wants to know if he has a problem

Which expert would you consult?

Fitness trainer

Pulmonologist

Asthmatic

Lucy wants to know how polluted the air is in her neighborhood

Which expert would you consult?

Meteorologist

Environmental engineer

Satellite
engineer

The government wants to assess the impact of its migration policies on the social integration and access to public services of migrants

Which expert would you consult?

Political scientist

Migration sociologist

Internationalist

A city seeks to design public policies that promote the active participation of people over 85 years old in social activities, preventing their isolation

Which expert would you consult?

Geriatrician

Social
gerontologist

Clinical psychologist

A foundation wants to analyze why families in a rural area do not access the available government agricultural support programs

Which expert would you consult?

Agronomist

Agricultural economist

Rural anthropologist

Level
Up

Transitions

